POLITICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

The Cheboygan Democrat claims to have converted Charley Hampton to the democratic party. It is an awful responsibility to assume. —Det. Journal.

A resolution has been introduced in the National House of Representatives demanding an explanation of the rebel flag order from the secretary of war. The Bourbon majority will prevent that little inquiry from being an embarrassment to the aristocratic Endicott and the conceited Cleveland. —Blade.

The morphine and chloral route over the dark river is becoming a favorite with the hard cases up north. Word comes from Alger that Robert Pickett, a saloon-keeper at Cheboygan, ended his existence by chloral at Otsego Lake; and Nellie Gordon, an inmate of one of the dives near Otsego Lake, chose morphine as a means of ending her respectable life. —Bay City Press.

The United States started out first on the free trade principles; and remained the poorest nation on the globe, until protection and high tariff was adopted; since then prosperity and wealth has rolled in until the U. S. ranks among the most wealthy and influential governments of the world. Who wants to go back to the old threadbare times? Very few, we think. —Oscoda Outline.

If in 1884 any republican on the stump had made the prediction that in the event of Cleveland's election the rebel flag would have been ordered returned to the south, that speaker would have been charged with waving the bloody shirt. If any republican on the stump in 1884 had said that one of the fruits of a democratic administration would be the placing of such an old state rights secessionist as Mr. Lamar on the supreme bench, that speaker would have been hissed by democrats for waving the bloody shirt. We have a little history since then. What does it reveal? —Det. Tribune.

We clip the following from the Atlanta Tribune: "Mrs. Lydia Everts died very suddenly of heart disease, at camp at Crooked Lake, Saturday morning, last at 4:30 a. m., aged 57 years. She was born in Vermont and came to Atlanta with her husband Geo. Everts, a war veteran, last year. She had been an invalid for a number of years. Funeral was held Monday afternoon, services by Elder Pierce. She was buried in the Briley township cemetery." Mr. Geo. Everts is a member of Marvin Post and resided in Grayling and Frederic, previous to his removal to Montmorency county.

The other day an old friend of Gen. Sherman's suggested to the old veteran that he would make a strong presidential candidate. The general emphatically stated he would not accept a nomination under any circumstances. "But," said he, "I will tens publicize about it as Artemus Ward was about the war. You know he said this bloody war should be prosecuted if it took the last one of his wife's relations. If the republicans want a candidate there is my brother John. If the democrats want a candidate there is my brother-in-law Tom Ewing."

England is looking hopefully to this country in the expectation that Cleveland's free trade policy will be successful. It may be of interest just now to recall what the London Daily Telegraph said editorially a few days after the Morrison "horizontal reduction" bill was defeated in the spring of 1884:

A bill to establish in America what the English call free trade has just been defeated in the House by the narrow majority of four. The measure was of enormous importance to English manufacturers, as it would have enabled them to export goods to the states without the crushing tariff now imposed, and its fate was watched with interest by Englishmen. Were it passed, it would have been worth £100,000,000 per annum to British manufacturers.

The list of House committees announced by Speaker Carlisle is worth studying. Of the forty-seven committees, the Northern democrats get only sixteen chairmanships, nearly all of which are of inferior importance, while the Southern democrats get the remaining thirty-one. Mills, of Texas, is chairman of the Ways and Means, the leading committee of the House, in charge of all revenue bills. Randall, of Pennsylvania, is chairman of the committee of Appropriations. The next most important committee, the Judiciary—possibly equal in importance to either of the others—has also a Texas chairman, Culbertson. Mr. Carlisle evidently enters to the old idea that the South has a right to rule this country, and that the "mudsills" of the North must humbly take their places among the hewers of wood and drawers of water. —Blade.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6, '88.
There is one thing which congress did not fail to do before it adjourned for its holiday recess—draw its mileage. This mileage is quite an item, and amounts to $33,000 for the Senators, and $110,000 for members of the House. Heretofore it has been virtually a gift, for nearly every Senator and member, if not every one, traveled on free passes. The passage of the Interstate Commerce bill cut off that nice little perquisite. The mileage to the delegation from the Pacific Coast amounts to $1,300 a year to each. The rate is twenty cents a mile for the distance by the nearest route between the members' home and Washington at the opening of each session, and back to his home again after adjournment.

Senator Stanford, of California, is a liberal man with his millions in more ways than one. His generosity is shown, for instance, to his committee clerk, whom the law allows $2,500 per year. To this Mr. Stanford adds his mileage of $1,300, which gives the clerk the comfortable little sum of $3,800. Then Stanford's salary as Senator is $5,000 a year, this entire sum he turns right over to his private secretary. How fortunate some men are in money matters!

The Bureau of Immigration claims that there are 600,000 Hungarians in this country, a large proportion of whom are not naturalized. It seems impossible to estimate how many foreigners of all kinds we have who have not taken out naturalization papers, though eligible to citizenship, and it is probable that a bill will be introduced in this Congress to make this matter compulsory. It does seem reasonable that a man who enjoys the prosperity of the Republic should be compelled to suffer its adversity with others if adversity should come.

A bill will soon be introduced, with good prospect of its passage, creating a commission to treat with the Indians in the Indian Territory. Its object is to mass them closer together in the eastern part of the Territory, thus leaving about 21,000,000 acres in the western portion open for settlement. To this will be added "No Man's Land," or "Oklahoma," so called, which comprises 3,000,000 acres, making a territory of 24,000,000 acres, about as large as the State of Ohio. This project is meeting with great favor.

When congress assembled on Wednesday most of the members were present. It was fully expected that the speaker would proceed at once, on opening to announce the committees, but the arrangement made by the speaker having been raised about considerably before the hour for opening arrived, dissatisfaction with appointments was so great and pressure for changes so strong, that the speaker was confused and determined to postpone the announcement.

The Senate's proceedings on Wednesday were characterized by three remarkable speeches. Senator Sherman analyzed the president's message on the tariff issue in an able manner, followed by Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, in defense of the president's position, and by Senator Teller, of Colorado, who, with a mass of facts and figures, showed the sophistry and insincerity of the administration in its pretended tariff reform and financial policy.

The galleries of both wings of the Capitol were filled with spectators who evinced a great interest in the proceedings. The Senate drew the more intellectual portion of the crowd on account of the speeches being delivered, but the house galleries were packed by those who enjoy the confusion and excitement usually attending the proceedings of that body.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, introduced a resolution for the repeal of all internal revenue taxes, and will call the question up next Monday and make a speech on it. This took the democratic side a little by surprise, and is understood to mean that the Senator will oppose reduction of tariff duties, but favor the repeal of all internal taxation. It means further that the president is going to have serious trouble among his own party friends on the issue he has raised.

Peterson's Magazine

For February is before us, as varied and interesting as ever, and we could hardly bestow higher praise. There is never any falling off in this favorite periodical, no show numbers, and no unfulfilled promises. Its serials and short stories are of the first order of merit, its fashion department always presents the prettiest and freshest of Paris novelties, and its numerous steel and wood engravings are invariably artistic in design and finish. No household fond of the best literature, and no lady desirous of possessing a thoroughly reliable guide in regard to dress, needlework, and the household, should be without "Peterson's." Long years of unexampled success and prosperity have thoroughly established its position; and as it yearly offers greater and more striking attractions, it runs no risk, even in this age of competition, of losing one iota of its hold on public favor. Two dollars a year, with great reduction to clubs. Address: PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Three days had not passed after the election of 1876 before it was apparent that the result of that presidential contest would depend upon the vote of Louisiana. There was no doubt that South Carolina had given a majority of its votes to Hayes and there was very little more uncertainty about Florida. But in Louisiana the bulldozers had done their work so well that the republican majority had been suppressed and it was apparent that the electoral vote of the state would be given to Tilden if the State Returning Board did not exercise its legal privileges and throw out the vote of the bull-dozed parishes. This it did, and the frauds and murders committed by the democrats proved futile on that occasion. It is these very frauds and murders, the truth of which the democrats have obstinately denied, to which Gov. McEnery has now turned states' witness and virtually acknowledged the justice of the returning board's decision. —Philadelphia Press.

How Men Die.

If we know all the methods of approach adopted by a enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the inherent strength of the body suffices to enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many however have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Under the first symptoms of a Cough, Cold or any trouble of the Throat or Lungs, give that old and well-known remedy—Bosch's German Syrup, a careful trial. It will prove what thousands say of it to be, the "benefactor of any home."

We have received from the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., of New Haven, Conn., a unique and artistic lithograph, fourteen inches wide, by twenty-two inches in length. The three exquisite hunting scenes in colors will be highly prized by sportsmen, or in fact, by any one who can appreciate a fine picture; and there is also a large calendar for 1888, arranged for convenient reference and well adapted to the wants of the business public. Possessing the double merit of being both useful and ornamental, these calendars are worthy to adorn either the office or the library. They are neatly packed in strong tubes to protect them from injury, and although they are without doubt expensive, one will be sent to any of our readers upon receipt of four cents to cover postage. Address: Winchester Repeating Arms Co., New Haven, Conn.

One of the new democratic chiefs of division in the pension office, hailing from Indiana, has posted the following notice in a conspicuous place in his office: "Hereafter I don't want none of my hands to walk about the corridors during office hours." —En.

Demorest's Magazine.

Demorest's Monthly for January (now ready) starts off the New Year with the same enterprise that has so marked its progress during the past year. The opening article, "The Native Women of our Colony," by Frederick Selawatha, gives an insight into family life in Alaska. We all know too little about our Colony, and Demorest is fortunate in securing such a well-known author to impart information by pen and illustration. "King of the Old, Ring in the New" is a beautiful executed oil picture, and is worthy of a frame. The Department of "Our Girls" is interestingly filled by Lida A. Churchill, with an excellent article on "Work and Overwork," and in the "Sanitarian" Department, Janet E. Cuntz-Rees tells "How to Keep Baby Warm." The numerous other departments are well stored with just such information as every woman wants to know, and the illustrations are profuse and handsome. We would advise all our lady readers to investigate the merits of this thorough Family Magazine, which contains as much instruction and amusement as a dozen ordinary magazines. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York City.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

The January term of the Circuit Court convened on the 10th inst., Hon. Wm. H. Simpson presiding. The following cases were disposed of: The People vs. John McCallum, continued; The People vs. Geo. Willis, Nolle Pross.; The People vs. Henry Sheppard, Larceny, not guilty; Upton-Manufacturing Co. vs. R. Hanson, et al., Replevin; judgment for defendant $191.91 damages; Martha J. Crisher vs. John L. Crisher, Divorce, decree granted.

Jim Slocum, of the Holly Advertiser.

says a short, fat man led a long, slim woman into the Oakland county clerk's office the other day, slipped $1 upon the desk, asked for a marriage license, and then solemnly turned to his thin companion and remarked: "Thy beauty set my soul a-glow; I'd wed thee right or wrong; want wants but little here, below, but wants that little long. When I beheld your wondrous charms it almost made me holler, and so I've brought you to this place and spent my bottom dollar."

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and humors for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and restored me completely all disease and pain."

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about half a dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at N. H. TRAYER'S Drug Store.
